NEEDLESS ANXIETY

There is a lot of anxiety in an editorial recently in the Baltimore Sun, which apparently fears the possibility that, sooner or later, Great Britain will assume an attitude that, if other powers treat their debts lightly, why should she take them seriously.

The paper says:

While France goes merrily forward, regardless of the unfunded debt, our other war debtors, notably Great Britain, are continuing to dig down to make their payments. That they will see justice in doing so indefinitely while France remains recalcitrant is not to be expected.

The Baltimore Sun may rest assured that British debts will all be paid without reference to what any other country may do. Britain has been satisfied to cancel debts due to her, but with regard to what she owes the United States or anyone else she asks no favors. It may not have been "business" but it was an act of gallantry, this cancellation of debts. It helped to raise some other war-torn nations back into competition with this same Great Britain, with something like a fighting chance.

Mr. Baldwin and all his colleagues, all his rivals, all his contemporaries, have repeatedly assured the world that British debts will be paid. The late assurance to be recorded is that of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, who, speaking before the Canadian Club at Vancouver, said:

"We have shouldered a great debt. Let me tell you that debt will be paid to the last farthing. It matters not if we consider it fair or unfair. Our country's name has been placed to that document and when it is placed there it becomes a pledge."

There are still people over there in Great Britain who are foolish enough and old-fashioned enough to pay for what they get and to get nothing they can't pay for. While other nations are producing statistics to show how much greater is their per capita wealth than that of Great Britain, how many more automobiles they have per capita, how many more domestic telephones, how much more they spend on amusements, British people are doing without these things in order to pay what they owe to their neighbors, the local tradesmen and their creditors.

Paying your way may be a mid-Victorian ideal, but owing money—"It just isn't done."

DISTRIBUTION OF LIQUOR PROFITS

British Columbia is making huge profits out of Government control and sale of liquor. The surplus for the six months ending March 31 amounted to $1,064,977.

The Government of the east province, however, pursues a less selfish policy toward the municipalities in this connection than does that of Alberta. In this province the entire profit from the liquor business are thrown into the provincial money chest along with the revenue from the gasoline tax, amusement tax and other special sources of taxation in which the municipalities should at least share equitably.

The British Columbia plan of a re-emption of the Government liquor system has been to turn over at least half of the liquor profits to the municipalities. Hospitals and schools have received the greatest amounts. In the present distribution a large amount is set aside as well for mother's pensions. In addition to the sum of $239,777 given to hospitals and other institutions, $500,479 is turned over to the municipalities without any directions as to how it should be spent. Less than half the entire profits go into the consolidations of the Government.

The principle of division goes far to relieve the municipalities of financial anxiety. It is a principle which should be adopted in this province, as in the case in Quebec, the liquor surpluses are earmarked for highway improvement.

HOW TO CONTROL RECKLESS DRIVERS

The suggestions in the letter of Lester Chauncey, in the Calgary Herald's issue of Wednesday, are well worth the attention and consideration of our provincial legislators. Under our present system if the person applying for a license to drive a car, is over the age of 16, if a boy, or 18 if a girl, a license is automatically issued, and the question of his or her fitness to be in charge of a dangerous vehicle, does not seem to be considered at all.

Mr. Chauncey points out that in Ontario, before a license is granted to any one, he must first submit to a trial of his ability to handle a car, in company with an inspector, upon whose report, a license is or is not granted. The license thus granted must be always carried by the person in whose favor it is made out, and on the reverse side of it, effects of which the owner has been convicted are registered.

The Herald is of the opinion that these regulations might well be introduced into our provincial Motor Vehicle Act and in addition, a clause added making obligatory upon the magistrate to cancel the offender's license for his or her third offence. A fine means little to many offenders against the act, while a cancellation of a license and temporary confiscation of their motor cars, would have a steadying effect on many a reckless driver.

—The Calgary Herald.

AN UNDIPLOMATIC DIPLOMAT
Of all the gasps of astonishment which have followed what appears to be the snub which Mr. Kellogg administered to the British Empire, none is louder nor more prolonged than that arising from his own country.

Perhaps Mr. Kellogg, apostle of peace and author of the treaty for the outlawry of war signed less than a week ago at Paris, will be able to explain when he gets home why he visited Ireland and deliberately passed up the opportunity of paying his respects to the British Government in London—particularly as there are two or three points arising out of the treaty which could have been cleared up by discussion.

Lack of time, of course, has been advanced as an explanation, but he had time to visit Ireland. There was no official business to be transacted in Ireland. There was official business to be done and a number of important international consultations which he could have held in London.

The United States disfigurement over the Anglo-French naval compromise could no doubt have been set at rest around the dinner table, and one would have imagined that Mr. Kellogg would have sought the opportunity to hear the explanation from those who best know it. The British people, after their manner, blame their government for not inviting Kellogg, but those accustomed to taking international courtesies for granted may have to be pardoned for assuming that either he was too busy to pay the usual visit or he wasn't.

The theory has been heard that his visit to Ireland was a political move to offset, in favor of Mr. Hoover, Governor Smith's popularity with the Irish-American Catholics. Urgency then, to get back to his own country to take part in the presidential campaign does not seem to be an adequate explanation if he could take such a part in the campaign while he was abroad. On the contrary, Mr. Hoover's opponents will now be armed with another weapon; that his lieutenant made a false step in international affairs while the ink on his own treaty was barely dry.

IF ONE COULD FORESEE
how his estate would be divided and who might settle it if he should fail to make a Will, such information would be the strongest argument possible for making a Will and naming a corporate Executor.

PONTIAC SIX PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS OF CANADA, LIMITED

C. P. R. May Build Outlet to the Coast

The significance of a four days' tour through the Peace River country by President Beatty, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and ten directors of the company should not be lost on the Alberta Government. They are all extremely busy men with huge financial interests to occupy their attention. It may be assumed that this group of outstanding businessmen in the Dominion are not devoting four days to a mere pleasure jaunt through the northern section of this province. Their trip has a serious purpose in view and it requires no prophet to forecast it concerns the future relationship of the premier transcontinental railway system with the Peace River area.

The potentialities of Northern Alberta as an originator of both freight and passenger traffic are not unknown to the heads of the C.P.R. For several years the company operated the E.D. and B.C. Railway, the chief of the provincial government lines. The government saw fit two years ago to refuse a renewal of the operating lease. Later still, a joint offer from the two trans-continental systems and an amended offer were also turned down. The amended offer was a reasonably good one and its acceptance would have relieved the taxpayers of this province of a deficit. In our opinion the rejection was a mistake.

Premier Brownlee's refusal has left the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National free to provide their own connections into the Peace River. If one or both decide to construct lines into the northern area, the dividend paying prospects of the provincial government lines will be seriously imperilled. This possibility was foreseen by everyone except the Alberta government.

With the growth of traffic and trade in the Peace River country, a direct western outlet appears inevitable. The current season's grain crop is estimated at 30,000,000 bushels. This production will appear small in comparison with the yield in the near future and other traffic will expand in proportion. A direct haul to the Pacific has been discussed for several years. It may be that the C.P.R. directors, in their visit to the north, will consider this angle of Peace River transportation to the exclusion of any alternative plans. If and when such a direct outlet is provided for the northern settlers, the value of the provincial government's northern lines will be greatly impaired. It is a situation which should cause some anxious thought in inner administration circles in Edmonton these sunny days.

SAYS POOL NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR DECLINE IN PRICE

A lengthy statement issued by A. J.

McPhail, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool and President of the Central Selling Agency, says in part, in connection with the initial payment of 85 cents.

"The fact that it has been necessary to lower the initial payment to 85 cents and to abandon the level which has been obtained since the formation of the Central Selling Agency, is regrettable, especially when western Canada has recently suffered a more or less serious frost, the damage from which can scarcely be appraised as yet. Nevertheless, in a year like this, when there is a probability that there will be more bushels of wheat harvested in Canada than in any previous year, it is of the greatest importance that the pool place itself in the strongest possible condition."

Mr. McPhail then goes on to refer to the agreement of the pool with the banks, the pool having agreed to maintain a 15 per cent. margin if satisfactory over and above the initial payment. "It is easy to see that when the price of wheat goes below $1.15 the margin has disappeared," says Mr. McPhail.

"While the responsibility for the recent drastic decline in prices has been laid at the door of the pool by many people, nothing could be further from the truth," says the statement. "When the business of the Central Selling Agency is finally reported to pool members, it will be shown conclusively that the pool was in no way responsible for the decline."

Mr. McPhail then compared the Canadian grain in stock this year, and that of 1927, showing that on July 1927 it was more than double that of a year ago.

BROOKFIELD NEWS

Brookfield School opened Monday August 27th with Miss Lila Lett as teacher, and 15 pupils in public school and three pupils in high school. We are glad to welcome Henry Pyper as an addition to the high school, and sorry to lose Mary Gauld, who we understand, is going to attend the convent at Red Deer for the following term.

Maureen Spiers is on the sick list and we hope soon to hear of her recovery.

Mr. Lealie Bushini is again in the neighborhood for the Fall work, and we hear on good authority that he is still addicted to old habit of writing "billets-doux."

Mr. John Davis is the possessor of a new Chevrolet car.

Mrs. Harry Allan visited the old farm this week.

Mr. Ross and Willie Ross are stocking for Mr. Alex Graham.

Mr. Fortuin arrived from Guernsey to work in the harvest fields with Mr. Sawyer.

Mr. Isaac Low and Bondsman were Brookfield visitors last week.

Harvesting is now in full swing and bumper crops are almost assured in most parts of our district.

Pretty Wedding at Canmore

At Banff on Aug. 15th the marriage of Miss Florence Heath of Meadowbrook, to Mr. Roy Sweet, of Menaik, was solemnized by the Rev. Lonsdale, at the Union Church.

The bride was attired in peach georgette, trimmed with gold lace, and carried a bouquet of cut flowers. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Heath, who was attired in blue crepe-de-chene. While the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. A. Sweet.

A large crowd waited outside the church when the happy couple were inundated with rice and confetti. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, who now reside at Canmore. The young people danced and made merry until the wee sma' hours.

Although the bride has resided in Canmore for a very short time, she has endeared herself to the young folks of the town, and received many presents as tokens of their affection.

Many friends attended the breakfast, including Mr. and Mrs. H. Dredge of Canmore, Mr. and Mrs. H. McLeod of Calgary and Mr. and Mrs. T. Alkman of Canmore, who were present at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. Heath, the bride's parents 26 years ago.

The dining room was beautifully decorated with flowers and wedding bells.

The bride's uncle, Mr. McKinnon, of Canmore gave the toast which was received with much applause.

There were 45 guests at the wedding breakfast, who were attended by Miss Ramsay, Miss Musgrave, Miss Brown, also Miss Dredge of Leithbridge and Miss Reid of Ponoka who are very close friends of the bride.

The music for the dancing was supplied by the groom and his brother, Messrs. Roy and A. Sweet, and Mr. W. R. Richards, the brides cousin. The happy couple returned to their home at Menaik with Mrs. Sweet, mother of the groom, on Friday, Aug. 17th, along with a number of relatives from Lincoln and Meadowbrook.

Here and There

The Provincial Government of Nova Scotia has arranged to have the Boy Scouts undertake the re-foresting of 1,000 acres of land in the Deer River area, Digby County. A similar programme was carried out on a smaller scale in the Waverly district, Halifax county, last year.

The vicious dog fish of the Pacific coast has at length found his niche in the scheme of economic usefulness, judging by a new industry getting under way in Vancouver. Dog fish oil is the base of a preparation for keeping away mosquitoes, black flies and other insect pests which molest man and beast alike. Several barrels a day of dog fish oil are being used in the manufacture of the preparation.

A Pacific Coast mariner whose name is well known throughout the country has announced his intention to retire from active service. Captain James D. Troup, veteran of 55 years of continuous service on Pacific coastal waters, 36 years of which he spent in British Columbia, has relinquished his position of manager of the British Columbia coast steamship service of the Canadian Pacific Railway. His place has been taken by Captain C. D. Neroutos, formerly assistant manager.

Golf in the heart of the Canadian Rockies is becoming so popular that a miniature course has been opened at Castle Mountain Bungalow Camp in Vermilion Pass on the Banff-Windermere Highway. This new course is probably the highest, smallest and most effectively situated of any golf links in the British Empire. The ingenious lay out of the course is the handiwork of Stanley Thompson, internationally known golf architect, who also designed the recently enlarged links at Banff.

Another recruit has joined the ranks of the famous Contented Cows at the Canadian Milk Farms at Seattle, Washington, the Canadian Pacific Railway supply farm at Strathmore having sold one of their prize heifers to the Canadian Milk company. The animal, bred at the C. P. R. farm, is the first heifer female from the prairie provinces to be accorded the grand championship at this circuit show. In the west, an honor which had previously been won by cattle either from Ontario or from the Pacific coast.

So notorious a reputation has the fisherman won for himself as a prevaricator that he must needs enter his fish in competitions with a daily signed and witnessed affidavit. The latest record catch to be reported to the General Tourist Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway is a six and a quarter pound speckled trout, hooked at Pine Portage near Nipigon River Bungalow Camp. It is the largest so far to be entered for the local fishing trophy, which many fine fish have rewarded anglers in the neighbourhood this summer.

The Japanese coronation ceremonies in November will probably result in a demand for more motor cars from this continent, said J. A. Langley, Canadian Trade Commissioner in Tokyo, who sailed recently from Vancouver aboard the Canadian Pacific ship Empress of Asia. The forthcoming coronation procession in which ox teams and other picturesque means of locomotion have participated in the past will probably be largely motorized on this occasion, he said.

WAREHOUSE BURGLARIZED
The long term of freedom from serious crime was rudely interrupted on Friday night last, when marauders entered the offices of Distributors' Limited, Beer Warehouse, and blew open the safe with glycerine or some other high explosive. The thieves secured very little for their work, cash to the amount of $39.10 and several hundred dollars in cheques which are of no value to them. The burglary was not noticed until Mr. Doherty, manager of the local warehouse went down to his office Saturday morning. At first nothing seemed out of place, but in a few minutes he noticed that the dial had been removed from the safe door, and investigation proved that it had been blown open. The thieves were evidently experts at the festive game of safe blowing, and did a very nice, clean job, wrecking the safe very little. They evidently pried off the knob on the dial, and poured a little explosive in among the wheels, just enough to do the trick. The explosion blew the combination wheels off the shaft, and broke the wooden doors inside the safe. One strange thing about the robbery is the manner in which the burglars cleaned the place up after the robbery. Small pieces of iron from the interior were gathered up and put in a barrel at one end of the warehouse, splinters of wood from the inside drawers were carefully swept under the safe, and securing a piece of wire, it was put around the lining of the door which had been blown off, and it was carried out into the store room and stood up against the wall. They also took the dial with them. They did everything but sweep the office out.

The Provincial police were put on the job early in the morning, and followed several clues, one of which took them to Stettler, but at time of writing no arrests have been made.

New CHRYSLER '65' and '75'

...a glorious escape from Obsolete Fashions

AFTER nearly four years of imitation and emulation Chrysler now brings to the price groups of the new "65" and "75" a lavishness of beauty which was never there before.

The style of yesterday, still living in many new cars, is rendered obsolete because it is succeeded today by Chrysler cars so completely new in design that they establish new measures of beauty and style.

New slender-profile chromium-plated radiator, arched-window silhouette, the grace and sweep of its "air-wing" fenders, the luxury of fitting and appointment single these new Chryslers instantly as the new style that re-styles all motor cars.

Surely the mere evidence of the eye—because performance is assuredly the very name of Chrysler—proves at once that both the new "65" and the "75" have been lifted up to an intrinsic value which hundreds of dollars—yes, even a thousand—more than their selling price could not have secured before.

A Column of Fun and Facts for Lacombe Folk and Our Farmer Friends

Lacombe is especially fortunate this year in the fine corps of teachers which the school board has selected. Not all of the old ones are back, but we are sure the new ones will fill their places with credit to themselves and the community and we want to take this occasion to welcome them and assure them of our support.

Ball bearings are used in many ways these days, but they never accomplished any more for the farmer than when they were put into the cylinder bearings of McCormick-Deering Tractors.

A MOUTHFUL

The news that a tooth was recently extracted from the ear of a New Jersey girl suggests the probability that someone tried to bit off more than he could chew.

Let us give you a demonstration of the McCormick-Deering Tractor and convince you of the wonderful work it will do. The most practical power outfit for the up-to-date farmer.

To the school boy, nothing succeeds like a recess.

Have you seen the new International Speed Trucks which are around town these days? The Lacombe Nurseries and "Gassy" Jones are recent proud owners.

Woman didn't wait until she got into politics to become speaker of the house.

Follow the crowd this week and see the combines and their stuff at Charlie Abbott's or at the Willson Boy's near Chigwell. The skeptics will be convinced by a visit.

"That's the guy, I'm laying for," said the hen as the farmer hove in view.

You can replace your lagged iron pulley, any size with a weather-proof drive pulley for very little more than it will cost to lag the old one. We can obtain all sizes for you on short notice.

WILL CELEBRATE DIAMOND WEDDING

On Wednesday last, Aug. 22nd, Mrs. C. C. Switzer entertained a number of friends in honor of her daughter, Mrs. C. Manness, of Toronto, who with her husband, is paying an extended visit to her parents here. The day also being the occasion of Mrs. Switzer's 77th Birthday, she was the recipient of hearty congratulations from her many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Switzer are among Lacombe's earliest and most highly respected pioneers, having removed here from St. Mary's, Ontario, and taken up farming a about three miles from town, in March 1898. In 1905 they retired from farm life, and settled in town, where their friends have always received a most cordial welcome to their beautiful home.

An event of great interest to Mr. and Mrs. Switzer and their friends is the celebration of their diamond wedding on October 1st, when they will have been married sixty years. A unique feature of this affair is that Mr. and Mrs. Switzer are expecting to act as best man and maid of honor at the wedding of one of their grandchildren, whose marriage is to take place the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Switzer have five children, Norman, of Hamaruka, Alberta, Mrs. C. Manness, of Toronto, Alfred, of Brisbane, Australia, Mrs. Geo. Storey, of Calgary and Milton, of Abbotsford, B. C., who with the exception of the son in Australia, expect to be present at the celebration. There are also twelve grandchildren living and five great grand children.

GIVE THEM A SQUARE DEAL

It is a good restorative to believe in the human sense of fair play to find that even those newspapers, which were the most loudly critical of the Government's policy in bringing an employed British miners over to work in the Canadian harvest fields, since their criticism as soon as the men arrived and devoted their energies to making the newcomers feel at home. The Manitoba Free Press, which up to now has been no more than lukewarm toward the scheme, now voices the hope that their welcome and treatment will be such that many of them will desire to remain and become Canadian citizens.

All along the line they have been subjected to newspaper interviews and reporters have gathered around them in a manner from which even a movie star might possibly have been inclined to shrink. A cabinet minister, a diplomatic officer or an international personality was never more pursued than these men, and as they progressed across Canada they have been quoted and described, and their impressions of Canada and their plans for the future have been recorded by the column. "What are 10,000 good men worth?" asks a writer in the Winnipeg Tribune who had travelled with them from Port William to Winnipeg. He adds:

Ten thousand men of British stock, with British traditions, love of fair play, love of sport, with British respect of law and order, industry and, presumably with British honesty—what are they worth? They are worth keeping. Perhaps it is their very presence, their enthusiasm, their determination to make good, their insistence on playing the game fairly with those already in Canada that has warmed the Canadian heart to these honest, unfortunate men for whom there is no room in their own country.

As to whether they will stay or not, many of them will from choice, no doubt. Others will stay because, as one of their number vigorously expressed it, they will "have to." Canada has been a clamor for a long time for immigrants of the right type and now here they are—ten thousand of them, many of them prepared to be assimilated into Canadian life without further formality; ready, on their own statement, to turn their hands to the first task that presents itself, so long as it is honest and so long—they are strangely insistent about this—so long as they are not the cause of injury or injustice to anyone else.

They have come here, then, prepared to play the game with us. They believe that we will in turn be square with them. If we are, this will prove to be the greatest immigration scheme we have ever entered upon; the foundation of a colonization project that will take its place in history along with the Selkirk settlement. But if we are not, Western settlement will receive a blow from which it will not recover in the present generation.

SOME FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Montana's Farm Giant, T. D. Campbell, is directing farming operations on about 95,000 acres of land in his home state. On the subject of farm labor costs, Mr. Campbell may be accepted as an authority. In a recent issue of the Magazine of Business, he wrote an article in which these positive statements appear:

"Labor costs per acre on our job, at $6 a day for engine operators, are less than they were thirty years ago when the standard wage for 'hired' help on the farm was $26 a month and board. We have developed large power units and kilches whereby we can plow an acre of land at a labor cost of 27c, seed it for about 7 cents an acre, labor cost, double disc it for 10 cents an acre and harvest and thresh at a labor cost of 40 cents per acre.
